JEFF. DAVIS IN PARIS—HIS MODE OF LIVING.

Mr. Jeff. Davis, ex-President of the Confederate States of America, is among us, with his wife, whose heroism is equal to the harshness of her destiny. He comes to see Paris and seek here a retreat to which he can bring in a week his children, left temporarily in America. Nothing can be more simple than this, who is experienced, like our fathers of '93, and who, like them, sent suddenly to all points of the Southern States as many armies as the French Republic opposed to the coalition in Europe. Jeff. Davis is very thin but erect. His chest is not hollow, and his body supports an admirable head, joined to broad shoulders by a rather thin neck. His forehead is ample, his hair gray, his contour rather bulging, in which are set clear blue eyes, which are very soft, yet observing. His face is thin, his cheekbones prominent, and consequently his cheeks appear hollow.—The nose is aquiline and like an eagle's beak. His mouth is rather large and indicative of goodness and resolution; his chin prominent. The ensemble of that ascetic face is now a mixture of meditation and indulgence.

* * * * *

Jeff Davis speaks mildly, and his face expands as he smiles. He is naturally slow in expressing his ideas in our language, which he constantly mixes up with idioms from his own tongue. He is quiet in gesture and in recrimination; but his phrases in the mother tongue are well rounded, concise, and neat. His experience in the failure of better or stronger combinations, rendered him less positive? or does he always proceed, in the expression of his ideas, less in an absolute than a dubious way? It is true, he feels his way in our language.

He has remained true to the principles of slavery, but modified, as he admits. He concedes rights to the negro race which en gros that it is born to enjoy them and made to understand them; but, at bottom, he is convinced that the African and the Caucasian races cannot assimilate. As to the rest, the extreme violence which the exigencies of the anti-slavery party caused, the effect of which was the sudden ruin of the Southern people, was, in his opinion, the consequence of the resistance which the latter made.

Here, Jeff. Davis is fully enjoying all the curiosities that Paris affords, which he finds very beautiful, and which he untiringly visits all the day. As to his material life, he does not care as to his food; breakfasting on a slice of bread and butter and a cup of coffee, and dining on two dishes.

Morally, his courage, his views, his strictness, his exquisite probity, the example of all his devotedness, his self denial, his good faith to his principles—to which he has sacrificed everything, for which he has suffered everything—the placidity of an apostle, and the commiseration of a martyr for his enemies, his resignation and serenity—all these have made Jeff. Davis a rare and great man—a great that, in the midst of our modern civilization, one cannot come near him without the utmost respect.

Mr. Jeff Davis dined on New Year's day at the residence of his old representative at Paris, Mr. Slidell. The dinner was quite private, and Mrs. Davis, in mourning for her mother, was not there.

REGULATIONS FOR LENT.

Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, falls on the 10th day of February. Archbishop Spalding has issued the following circular in reference to the observance of the season in the Diocese of Baltimore: 1. All the faithful who have completed their twenty first year are, unless legitimately dispensed, bound to observe the last of Lent. 2. They are to make only one meal a day, excepting Sundays. 3. The meal allowed on fast days is not to be taken till about noon. 4. At that meal, if permission should be granted for eating flesh, both flesh and fish are not to be used at the same time, even by way of seasoning. 5. A small refreshment, commonly called collation, is allowed in the evening; no general rule as to the quantity of food permitted at this time is or can be made, but the practice of the most regular Christian is never to let it exceed the fourth part of an ordinary meal. 6. The quality of food allowed at a collation is, in this diocese, bread, butter, cheese, all kinds of fruits, salads, vegetables, and fish; milk and eggs are prohibited. 7. General usage has made it lawful to drink in the morning some warm liquid, as tea, coffee, or thin chocolate made with water. Necessity and custom have authorized the use of hog's lard instead of butter in preparing fish, vegetables, &c. 9. The following persons are exempted from the obligations of fasting: Young persons under twenty-one years of age, the sick, nursing women, those who are obliged to do hard labor, all who through weakness cannot fast without great prejudice to their health. 10. By dispensation the use of flesh meat will be allowed at any time on Sundays, and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursday, and Saturdays, with the exception of Holy Thursday, and the second and last Saturdays of Lent. 11. Persons dispensed from the obligation of fasting on account of tender or advanced age, or hard labor, are not bound by the restriction of using meat only at one meal on days on which its use is granted by dispensation. Others dispensed from the fast for other causes, as well as those who are obliged to fast, are permitted to use meat only at one meal.

SOUTHERN CHARACTER.

In the Southern character are qualities which the sword cannot destroy, and which will yet achieve a powerful and bloodless victory, more durable and glorious than any which our arms could have attained, had Lee and Johnson borne the Southern cross in triumph over the armies of Sherman and Grant.

The blood of our brave men was not shed in vain, and the tears of our widows and orphans have not watered graves destined never to bear flowers worthy of such a priceless sacrifice. The glories and the rewards of our struggle and defeat are yet to come; not in new wars and bloodshed, when storms of grief and suffering, fury and vengeance, shall burst upon the conquerors. No; that is not the harvest which we want to reap. It is in the hearts of our people, chastened and refined by suffering, purified and exhalted by adversity, that we look for that spirit and those works which yet will write resurgam over the grave of every Confederate soldier. It matters now that "reconstruction" has been tied like a mill-stone around our necks; that our slaves are made our civil and political equals. The barbarians conquered Greece and Rome, but the genius, the laws and religion of the latter ultimately subjugated the savages. The Normans conquered England—they took away the very lands. But where are the Normans or Norman traces now, either on the country, the language or the laws? All gone, buried, swallowed up in the sublime Saxon element. You cannot keep down this spirit. Hack it with swords, pierce it with bayonets, crush it by legislation, attempt to degrade it by "negro equality," but it is a moral and intellectual power in the land and in the world which by its native and inherent vigor will ever rise, despite all attempts to bury it. Despair not!—Southern Opinion.

LIFE INSURANCE.
The Most Vigorous and the Most Liberal Insurance Company in the Country.
BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
141 Broadway, N. Y.
ASSETS OVER
$1,000,000!
CHRISTIAN W. BOUK.....President.
ABRAM D. POLHEMUS.....Vice President.
WILLIAM M. COLE.....Secretary.
D. P. FACKLER.....Consulting Actuary
DANIEL AYRES, M. D. LL.D.....Med. Examiner.
POLICIES ISSUED AS GOOD AS UNITED STATES BONDS.
POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE AS AT DEATH!
The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in the country which guaranties a definite surrender-value to every Policy on which two or more annual premiums have been paid; this amount, in dollars and cents, is endorsed on every Policy issued. Should any Policy-holder become unable to pay his premiums, he can thus know the cash worth of the Policy at any time after two annual premiums have been paid.
This certainly is the greatest inducement and most tangible advantage ever accorded to parties insuring their lives.
Among the advantages offered by the BROOKLYN, which thoroughly evince the determination of the officers to make it the MOST LIBERAL Life Insurance Company in the United States, are:
1st TOTAL REMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE. The Assured may travel or reside anywhere they choose, the world over, without extra premium or special permit.
2d A Loan of one-third of the Premium to the Policy-Holder Annually.
3d. All Policies are non-forfeitable after two full annual premiums have been paid.
4th. Rates as low as are consistent with financial soundness, and less than those of almost all Companies which accommodate their assured with loans.
5th. Dividends annually (after second year) in cash. Dividends are divided on the CONTRIBUTION PLAN—the only equitable manner of dividing the earnings of a Life Insurance Company. The Contribution Plan was first conceived by Mr. D. P. Fackler, now Actuary of this Company and has been adopted by most of the best managed Life Companies in this country.
The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid and now pays to its Policy-holders LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!
6th. Promptitude in paying losses.
7th. No charge for policy or stamp.
The success which the "BROOKLYN" has achieved, fully exemplified in its rapid and healthful growth, is a convincing proof of the confidence reposed by the public in its soundness, integrity and liberality.

LIFE INSURANCE.
ÆTNA
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Hon. E. A. BULKELEY, President,
AUSTIN DUNHAM, Vice "
T. O. ENDERS, Secretary.
H. W. ST. JOHN, Actuary.
SUMMARY OF BUSINESS FOR 1867
Total Assets, over $10,000,000
Polices Insured in '67, 15,251
Am't insured, nearly $45,000,000
Policies Average " 3,000
Receipts for 1867, 5,129,447
Surplus for Dividends, 2,000,000
Dividend Fifty per cent.
Receipts for Interest Nearly Paid Its Losses.
It has $130 Assets for every $100 Liabilities.
Its premium receipts at the present time are nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS per month and are rapidly increasing.
The growth of the Ætna has never been equaled by any other Company whatsoever, in Europe or America.
Particular attention is called to the fact that while its business is increasing unprecedentedly, its ratio of expenses is comparatively small.
ECONOMY of management, CARE in the selection of risks, promptness in the payment of death claims, and security in the investment of its immense Trust Funds, are rigidly adhered to, and have ever characterized this Company.
The ÆTNA issues all the favorite kinds of Polices at the most favorable rates.
The ÆTNA issued last year more Endowment Insurances than any other Company.
The ÆTNA'S ratio of expenses, or cost of new business is less than any other Company whatsoever, and less than two-thirds of the average.
The ÆTNA is as liberal in permits to travel, in all parts of the world, as a sound discretion will warrant, and is much more liberal than any other prominent Company.
ANNUAL INCOME over $6,000,000.
The only Company that has the Low Participating Non-forfeitable Term Insurance with privilege of renewal. Ex. of rate at age 30 $14 67, which is nearly 40 per cent. lower than any other leading Company. Also Non-forfeiting cash rates with dividends on contribution plan and payable at the end of the first year.
Description of Policies.
First—Whole Life Policies.
Second—Endowment Policies, for terms of ten fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, and thirty-five years.
AGES.
Insurance will be granted at all ages from fifteen to sixty years.
PREMIUMS.
Premiums are payable annually during the continuance of the insurance, or annually during a period of five, ten, fifteen, or twenty years within the insurance term, or by single payment.
DIVIDENDS.
All Whole Life and Endowment Policies, issued at the rates published herewith, will participate in the surplus from the date of issue.
The dividends will be declared and paid annually upon the contribution plan, and may be applied as the assured shall elect, either to reduce future premiums, or to increase the Cash Value of the Policy.
If no election be made the dividends will be added to the Cash Values.
When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums—and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Value—or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.
The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the assured, securing, at an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.
Dividends on paid-up Policies—that is, Policies which require no further payment of premium to continue them in force for the original amount of insurance—will be paid in cash upon demand.
NON-FORFEITURE RULES.
No whole Life or Endowment Policy, on which two or more annual cash premiums have been paid, shall be forfeited by failure to make further payment as stipulated therein, but will continue in force for the full amount which the Cash Value and dividends, then accumulated, will purchase, taken as a single net premium, upon the "Actuaries" rate of mortality and four per cent. interest; and the amount continued in force will generally exceed the aggregate of the payments actually made, extra charges excepted.

PURELY A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION.
PRINCIPAL OFFICES:
Atlanta, Georgia; Memphis, Tennessee; Louisville, Kentucky.
CAPITAL STOCK, $228,500.
Nett Assets of the Company, July 1st, 1868, $330,942.06.
Insures lives, and promptly adjusts and pays losses. Its principal business is with Southern States, and to them it appeals for patronage. It has ample means to fully protect Policy holders and pay all losses.
The "Southern" combines the advantage of both note and cash system, stock and mutual—such as choose to pay cash may do so and secure a non-forfeitable policy and all the advantages of a Cash Company. The privilege of a permanent loan for one-third is granted to all who desire it.
It makes investments at home in good and reliable securities, thereby tending to make money more plenty in our midst, and to aid in developing the resources of our section, and to stop the annual drain of over ten Million dollars, which are being sent North for Life Insurance.
Its profits are equitably distributed among Policy holders and Stockholders.
In its organization are presented men of experience in Life Insurance, and their aim will be to make the "Southern Life" the exponent of the business, enterprise and progress of the present day.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1869.

SENATOR ROBBINS.

The world never saw a more contemptible display of malignity than is now being exhibited at the Capitol, by a few small souled and narrow minded men, towards the excellent gentleman whose name heads this article. We say a few men, and we are glad to know they are but few.

A charge of corruption and bribery has been trumped up against Mr. Robbins. All the changes are being rung on it. It is harped upon; it is gloated over; it is repeated with gleeful pleasure, by a batch of unprincipled villains, who are rejoicing in the hope that they are about to throttle and drag down a brave and true man. They are but a minority; but they make up in ferocity what they lack in numbers. The picture presented is that of a proud, wounded lion, surrounded and bayed at by yelping curs.

In the Senate and out of it, among all high minded men, without regard to party, there is but one opinion. Every good man acquits Mr. Robbins of the slightest taint of venality. There is no real foundation for the imputation. Indeed, as each new development takes place, it only serves to present the character of Mr. Robbins in a purer and nobler light.

The incident, out of which this clamor has all sprung, is very satisfactory set forth and explained in the statement of Mr. Robbins himself which appears in another column of to-day's paper. It is a statement which bears upon its very face the marks of perfect truth and candor, and will carry absolute conviction to the mind of every honest and well meaning man. It is also corroborated by the evidence taken before the Investigation Committee, in every particular; and there is not a particle of evidence anywhere which goes to invalidate it in any way. A majority of the Committee themselves exonerate him from all charges.

Let the public bear in mind, that before the Committee had taken any step towards the investigation of this case, Mr. Robbins voluntarily arose in the Committee-room, on Monday, the 18th inst., and gave a frank statement of the whole affair, in every particular, and asked the Committee to investigate it. This fact is declared by the whole Committee. The statement he then made is the same that he made to the Senate on Saturday, when the Committee reported, and which appears in this paper, as above said.

The gist of the thing simply is, that J. W. Stevens came to Mr. Robbins on Saturday morning, Aug. 22nd, and in a hasty conversation, lasting three or four minutes, in the lobby, when the mind of Mr. Robbins was pressed with a multitude of other matters, asked him what he thought of his (Stevens') right to his per diem. Mr. Robbins said he was in favor of it and should vote for it. This, Mr. Stevens swears, was the first thing said. Stevens then asked him to attend to the case as his Lawyer, and said he would pay him a fee of twenty dollars for his trouble. Mr. R. replied that this was just as Stevens pleased, but he would attend to the case, for he believed he was justly entitled to his per diem. This was the substance, if not the very words, of the conversation. The service was rendered, and the fee was paid. The hurry of mind, consequent upon the active duties of that final day of the session,—the smallness of the sum, just a Lawyer's fee,—the fact of its being offered as a Lawyer's fee, and his being spoken to "as a Lawyer to attend to a case,"—naturally caused the matter to present itself to the mind of Mr. R. simply in that light. Not thinking deliberately about it, he overlooked the matter of his public character as a Senator. He expresses astonishment now at the inadvertence and strange absence of mind which he exemplified on that occasion. There appears to him a mystery and a providence in it.

Some honest men entertain grave doubts whether there be any thing wrong in such a proceeding even when done deliberately. Let it be remembered that there is no charge made by anybody that this had anything to do with Mr. Robbins' vote on the question. Stevens swears that Mr. Robbins said he was going to vote for it, before a word was uttered about any fee. Republican Senator Lindsay swears that Mr. R. said the same thing to him the day before, and argued with him (Lindsay) on the subject, Lindsay being opposed to it. Republican Senators Cook and Harrington, and Conservative Senator Melchor, are ready to swear the very same thing; Harrington and Melchor, as well as Lindsay, having themselves first broached the subject with Mr. R., and all of them being opposed to the claim of Stevens. Mr. Robbins voted all through the session for per diem to every rejected Senator; and stated to some of the above named gentlemen that he should take particular pleasure in voting for Stevens' per diem, because he was of the opposite party, and it gave him a chance to show that he had not been giving his votes for per diem on party ground, which he feared some would think, because most of the rejected belonged to the Conservative Democratic party. All these facts show beyond doubt that Mr. Robbins' mind was fixed in favor of Stevens' claim, and that the transaction with Stevens had nothing to do with his vote.

Now, this being settled, and Steven's claim being a matter of private concern, entirely, in which Mr. R. and his constituents were not interested to the amount of a dollar scarcely, many good men think that there was no wrong in his taking a fee, as he did, for extra trouble in getting up examples and authorities, and presenting them in advocacy of this claim of a private individual. The best of men are known to have done exactly similar things, and it was never thought of. But Mr. Robbins is too frank and brave a man to put his defence upon this ground. He candidly admits that there is an impropriety in such a thing, which, however, he did not take notice of when this transaction occurred. He denies all thought of wrong. He indignantly repels the charge of corruption; and whoever may insinuate that he is capable of doing a corrupt or dishonest act, he denounces as vile and evil minded slanderers.

And here is one final argument, which is equivalent almost to a mathematical demonstration, that Mr. Robbins could not have considered this matter as at all akin to any bribery at the time. Mr. Stevens was almost entirely unknown to him. Mr. Stevens was a party opponent. What Mr. R. had heard of him was not at all calculated to inspire confidence in him personally. Is it supposable that Mr. Robbins would engage in conscious bribery with such a man, in such a way; and that he would thus place his reputation, his brilliant prospects, his earthly all, in the keeping of such a man? This is what he must have deliberately done, if he thought of the act as involving bribery or any wrong. Would he do this? Would he do this for twenty dollars? Would he do this, and not even speak of keeping it secret, as Stevens swears he did not? The supposition is too absurd to bear a moment's candid thought. We are satisfied that every honest mind will take the same view of this matter which has been expressed; that is, that this was a mere inadvertence, into which a noble, true man might happen to stumble, and that none but villains, who are a disgrace to human nature, would seek to magnify such a trifle into a crime, and for this to blacken an honorable name, and ruin one of the State's struggling sons.

Reared in poverty, in hardships, in toil, Mr. Robbins is just beginning to claim that position among men to which his talents and high character entitle him. What a spectacle was that presented in the Senate on Monday! There he stood, agonized, yet calm; beleaguered yet undismayed; tortured with shameful accusations, yet his countenance beaming with pride, with innocence, and with courage. And there, one after another, three ministers of the Gospel in name, reviled him and sneered at him, and poured out the malignity and bitterness of their narrow souls on him. Oh! it was a sight never to be forgotten,—a scene to make the devils blush! Blythe—Smith—Welker!

The people of North Carolina will set this matter right. The just minded Republicans, as well as Conservatives, of the Senate, will say to it that the body is not shamed by the malice of a vile few!

GUBERNATORIAL AND CARPET-BAG INDIGNATION.

The Governor, and certain carpet-bag men, are indignant at our mention of the name of Mrs. Cavalry.

We don't know that lady—we never saw her—we should have a mean opinion of ourself, if we should write that which Gubernatorial or carpet-bag malevolence could torture into an attack upon her department as a proper wife, and hence we were special to say, the Editor, "so-called" of the Standard's interviews, were with the knowledge of her husband.

This lady spoke to more than one carpet-bagger of bribery and corruption. She was warm and indignant about it. She was for investigating it. One carpet-bagger required her to make an affidavit of bribery and corruption before he would move for a Committee of investigation.—Her conversations with the Standard man, Gen. Littlefield, and her sudden exit from the city is all we intended to speak of and nothing more; that is all we know and all we intended.

The Governor and carpet-bag men should save their indignation and bestow it upon the article "Work," in the Standard of the 19th of September, where the chastity of every innocent woman in the State is assailed. Yes, there's an ample field for your indignation; why were you not then heard. Then, and there was the time for your indignation.

POMEROY'S DEMOCRAT.—This new paper has a wonderful circulation. In nearly every town in the country the Democrats and workingmen are getting up clubs for it. It is the boldest, sharpest paper published, and walks into Congress and the bondholders regardless of results. The paper has over fifty thousand subscribers in the State of New York alone. Send for sample copies, which are sent free, and see it for yourselves. Address M. M. Pomeroy, Printing House Square, New York City.

EMMA, THE COLORED PIANIST.—This wonderful pianist, who is said to excel even blind Tom, made her first appearance about ten days ago, before an appreciative audience in Vicksburg. We have met a gentleman, says the Galveston (TEXAS) News who witnessed her performance, and from his account of her she must certainly be the most accomplished performer by ear on the piano now in existence. She fully satisfied her audience of the truth of the marvelous reports of her extraordinary talents, which have been published. She is about twenty years of age, is as black as the ace of spades, and has all the characteristics of the negro.

Legislature of North Carolina.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

NIGHT SESSION.

MONDAY, Jan. 25, 1869.

Pursuant to adjournment the House, was called to order, at 7½ o'clock.

On motion of Mr. Ingram, the rules were suspended, and the bill authorizing the Commissioners of Anson county, to levy a special tax for certain purposes, was taken up and passed its several readings, by a vote of yeas 62 nays 2.

By Mr. Laflin: A resolution extending the time given to the Committee on Banks.

On motion of Mr. Laflin, the rules were suspended, and the resolution was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Barnett, the rules were suspended and the bill incorporating the North Carolina Land Co., was taken up when,

J. S. Leary, colored, moved, to print and make it the special order, for Thursday evening next. Lost.

On motion, the amendment offered by the Committee that reported upon it, was concurred in. The bill then passed its several readings.

On motion of Mr. Laflin, the rules were suspended, and House bill No. 170 establishing a Turnpike road from Marion, McDowell county, to Asheville in Buncombe county, was taken up, and passed its third reading, by the following ballot:

YEAS.—Messrs. Argo, Banner, Barnett, Barnes, Blair, Bowman, Candler, Carson, Carey, colored, Cherry, colored, Crawford, colored, Davidson, Downing, Durham, Ellington, Forkner, colored, Foster, Franklin, French, Gahagan, Gatling, Gibson, Gilbert, Graham, Green, Hendricks, Hodgin, Hudgings, Ingram, Justus, of Henderson, Justice, of Rutherford, Kelly, of Davie, Kelly, of Moore, Kinney, Laflin, Leary, colored, Malone, Matheson, Mayo, colored, McCanless, Moring, Nicholson, Painter, Pearson, Price, colored, Proffit, Ragland, Robbins, colored, Robinson, Seymour, Siegrist, Sinclair, Simonds, Smith, of Alleghany, Stilley, Vestal, Vest, Waldrop, Welch, White, Whitley, Williamson, colored, Wilson.

NAYS.—Messrs Allison, Clayton, of Transylvania, Ferebee, Hawkins, Hayes, High, Hinnant, Hodnett, Hoffman, Humphries, McMillan, Parker, Pou, Rea, Shaver, Snipes, Stanton, Sweat, colored, Sykes, Thompson, Williams, of Hornet.

SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. Justice, of Rutherford, resolution accepting the proposition of Mr. Downing to purchase the site and land of the Penitentiary.

The resolution was read, when, Mr. Justice, took the floor and advocated the adoption of the resolution. He gave a sketch of the proceedings of that Committee. He thought they had been hardly dealt with and had been censured unjustly. He believed that all the reports of frauds were only started to make political capital.

J. S. Leary, colored, moved the indefinite postponement of the resolution.

Mr. Seymour said, there was no doubt that blame should be attached to this body for having passed the bill without proper consideration, &c. He did not think any authority had been given to the Committee to purchase the eight thousand acres of land, under the bill. In his opinion the State did not legally own the land and therefore he could not support a resolution disposing of property that the State did not possess &c.

Mr. Vest opposed the motion to indefinitely postpone.

Mr. Downing said the Committee had acted from beginning to end, and if the House was thin when the bill passed, it was nevertheless a law, and was binding in regard to the power and authority given to the Committee.

Mr. D. said that the gentleman from Craven (Seymour) had not read far enough. [Mr. D. then read some extracts from the act.]

Mr. Downing then in substance went over the same ground in regard to proceedings of the Committee as he did on a former occasion.

Mr. Ingram said he has no personal feeling in the matter, but the people and his constituents expected the House to have the matter investigated thoroughly. He would not say the Committee had acted in bad faith, but he thought they had been sadly overreached in this purchase or acted very unwisely in the matter. He did not think the Committee had a shadow of authority to sustain them in this famous purchase. He would support a resolution disposing of the property if shaped in the manner he had mentioned a few days ago.

J. H. Harris, of Wake, colored, then took the floor in defence of the Committee.

Mr. Ferebee wanted to know if the water power and the eight thousand acres belong to separate parties, and did the water power belong in reality to the State when the purchase was made.

Harris replied that he knew but one party in the transaction.

Mr. Pou next took the floor, entered into a detailed account of all the facts in connection with the matter. He favored the motion to indefinitely postpone.

The question recurred upon the motion to indefinitely postpone, and it was adopted.

SPECIAL ORDER.

The Senate bill repealing the act, providing for the employment of convicts, and the erection of a Penitentiary. The bill was read, when,

Mr. Vest moved to postpone its consideration until to-morrow evening. Lost.

J. H. Harris, of Wake, colored, said the Senate had not condescended to consult the House in this matter. He did not think gentlemen could vote to concur in their action consistent with self respect. He moved the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Mr. Downing said he looked upon the action of the House to night as a censure and a reflection upon his character and reputation, &c. He did not care what they done with the bill, and, on motion of Mr. Laflin, the House then adjourned until to-morrow morning.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, Jan. 26, 1869.

The Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Motion of Mr. Cook, to reconsider the vote by which the resolution to recommit the report of the Committee on bribery was adopted.

Mr. Barrow moved to lay the motion to reconsider on the table, which was lost.

YEAS.—Messrs. Barrow, Blythe, Eaves, Etheridge, Epps, (colored,) Hyman, (colored,) Legg, Moore, of Yancey, Welker and Wynne—10.

NAYS.—Messrs. Beasley, Boeman, Burns, Cook, Davis, Galloway, (colored,) Graham, Hayes, Harrington, Jones, of Wake, Lassiter, Lindsay, Martindale, Melchor, Moore, of Carteret, Rich, Shoffner, White and Wilson—19.

The motion to reconsider prevailed, the question recurred on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Barrow said he desired to ask one question, does any Senator on the floor deny that important evidence has been suppressed by the Committee?

Mr. Rich said the Committee had taken a solemn oath to discharge their duties faithfully, and to report all the evidence material to the subject under investigation. The Committee were composed of gentlemen of integrity, and it would be a gross reflection on the members of that Committee to pass the resolution.

Mr. Welker said he thought this was a strange proceeding, to attempt to shut out important evidence, for the charge had been made that evidence had been stricken out of the report, he thought the resolution should be adopted, and did not think the recommitment of the report could be construed as a reflection on the Committee, or impugning their motives.

Mr. Forkner said it was due the Committee and the Senate since, the charge had been made, that evidence had been suppressed, that he should make a statement of the facts as they stood. The rumor was that Mr. Stephens had said that he had been misrepresented in the report, in other words that his entire evidence did not appear. The Committee when they assembled determined to be governed strictly by the rules of evidence, and to report nothing but material evidence. That portion of Mr. Stephens information which does not appear in the report they did not consider as evidence, and to make the case clear he would submit it to the Senate. When Mr. Stephens was asked if he considered he was buying Senator Robbins vote, he replyed not at all, because he (Mr. Robbins) had already stated to him that he thought it was a just claim and should vote for it, (but he, Stephens, was of the opinion that he was buying Mr. Robbins' influence) that was only Mr. Stephens' opinion and not evidence, consequently, it did not appear in the report. The Committee have submitted all the evidence in their possession. If it is recommitted and they are constituted a Standing Committee, probably they might be enabled to secure other evidence in the course of time, but they had none other at present. He, as a member of the Committee, if it was recommitted, should endeavor to do his whole duty, as he believed the entire Committee had done heretofore. Mr. Robbins had made a statement to the Committee which he was willing to qualify to, and he believed the Senator was ready to make any statement or answer any questions in the presence of the Senate in reference to the matter.

Mr Graham said, when the report came from the Committee he knew they had submitted all the material evidence, but when the charge was made on the floor, by a Senator, with so much earnestness and zeal, that the Committee had suppressed a portion of the evidence, he felt compelled to vote for a recommittal. He had had no conversation with Senator Robbins, in reference to the matter, but had given the whole subject a calm and dispassionate consideration, not in a personal or partizan sense, but as a juror sworn to act on the evidence presented, without being biased by personal or any other consideration, but to decide simply on the fact in the case.—There was no necessity for casting this slur on the Committee, when, if there were any additional facts to be brought out, it could have been done in the presence of the Senate, when the report was properly before them. Another error occurs in the statement that a minority of the Committee exonerated Senator Robbins from intended guilt, but regarded his conduct as an inadvertence, &c. The facts are that a majority of the Committee signed that report, there were only eight in all, and four of them signed the report. Senator Robbins, of course, having charges preferred against him, was not expected to do so.

Mr. Davis offered a substitute for the resolution requiring the Messrs. Robbins, Stevens, and Forkner to make a full statement of the fact in their presence to the Senate.

Mr. Forkner said he did not see any propriety or necessity for passing such a resolution, requiring Senators to make statements on the floor, when they had already signified their willingness to do so, and they were ready to answer any question at any time in reference to the matter. He hoped the Senate would not cast such a reflection on them. The idea is conveyed at once that he or they were disposed to conceal knowledge of the corruption and are forced to reveal it, was unjust, and should not pass.

Mr. Stephens said he concurred in all Mr. Forkner had said, and would state that he, Mr. Forkner, had alluded, in his former remarks, to the evidence which had not been reported by the Committee, his statement in relation to that matter was correct, and he knew of nothing else to be brought out,—he was ready to answer any question in relation to the matter.

Mr. Winstead said he voted to recommit the report simply upon the ground that charges had been made that evidence had been suppressed, not because he believed the Committee had done a wrong, but, after the charge had been made, he thought it due the Committee. He thought the Senate hard to satisfy in relation to this matter. The Committee had been twitted time and again because they were so slow to act, and now they have reported, the Senate are not satisfied. He thought they had presented the whole matter fully and fairly.

The question recurring, Mr. Etheridge's resolution to recommit was rejected.

Mr. Rich withdrew his resolution, and the report was accepted.

Mr. Rich then introduced his resolution, in substance as follows: While the Senate disapproves of Mr. Robbins' transaction with Mr. Stevens they still have confidence in his integrity.

Mr. Cook moved to postpone its further consideration until Friday next.

Mr. Etheridge moved to amend by inserting Wednesday next.

Mr. Sweet hoped the amendment would not prevail, he believed it was the intention of the Senate to decide this question according to the facts presented in the report, and it was impossible for Senators to become acquainted with all the facts sufficiently to vote intelligently, on a report covering 50 pages of manuscript in so short a time; he hoped the Senate would see the propriety of defering it to a longer time.

Mr. Etheridge's motion was lost.

Mr. Shoffner moved to make it the special order for the 6th, of February, which was lost, and Mr. Cooks motion prevailed.

PETITIONS.

Mr. Welker presented a petition from certain citizens, protesting against the repeal of an ordinance in relation to the sale of spirituous liquors near Company Shops. Referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

In Section 3, line 4, Mr. Justice, of Rutherford moved to amend by inserting after the word "division" the words "the first portion of said amount expended to be expended in completing said road to Rutherford." Carried.

Mr. Estes's proviso offered some days ago was adopted as Section 7 and 8. (Published before.)

Mr. French moved to amend sec. 2, line 5 after the word "cent," insert the words "in gold," and after the word "thereof" in line 6, insert the same words.

Mr. Hodnett characterized the amendment as a movement made in the interest of Wall Street, A manœuvre of the landholders, &c.

The question upon Mr. French's amendment being put to a vote, it was rejected.

Mr. Durham offered the following amendment to be known in the bill as sec. 9: "all dividends that may hereafter accrue to the State upon the stock owned by the State in said Railroad Co., or so much thereof as may be necessary for that purpose, shall be applied exclusively to the payment of the interest on the bonds of the State authorized by this act." Adopted.

The question recurred upon the passage of the bill on its third reading, when,

Mr. Seymour took the floor and entered into a long argument against all these large Railroad appropriations.

Mr. Estes replied at length.

Mr. Downing spoke for some time in support of the bill in its present shape.

Mr. Pou next took the floor in opposition to the bill.

Mr. Durham offered an amendment to come in as section 10 and 11. Adopted.

Mr. Malone moved to add the following section to the bill as section 12, to wit: That the Directors in this Company shall have power to receive subscriptions to stock in said Company in lands, monies, bonds, stocks or any other property, and in case bonds be subscribed as stock, the Directors may provide the mode in which the value of the same may be ascertained, and conveyances thereof executed. Adopted.

The question then recurring upon the bill on its third reading, resulted in the following ballot:

YEAS.—Messrs. Ames, Argo, Ashworth, Banner, Barnett, Bowman, Candler, Carson, Carey, colored, Cherry, colored, Clayton, of Transylvania, Davidson, Downing, Durham, Ellington, Estes, Forkner, colored, Foster, Franklin, French, Gahagan, Gatling, Graham, Harris, of Wake, colored, Hayes, Hendricks, Hicks, Hoffman, Hudgings, colored, Ingram, Justus, of Henderson, Justice, of Rutherford, Kelly, of Davie, Kelly, of Moore, Laflin, Leary, colored, Long, of Richmond, Malone, Matheson, Mayo, colored,) McCanless, Moring, Morrill, Morris, colored,) Painter, Pearson, Price, (colored,) Proctor, Proffit, Ragland, Renfrow, Robbins, (colored,) Robinson, Siegrist, Sinclair, Simonds, Stevens, Stilley, Sweat, (colored,) Sykes, (colored,) Vestal, Vest, Waldrop, Welch, White, Whitley, Williamson, (colored) Wilson and Wiswall.

On motion of Mr. Laflin, the bill entitled an act amendatory of the act to incorporate the Western North Carolina Railroad Co., passed the 15th day of February, 1855, and of all others amendatory thereof, was taken up.

Mr. Ellis moved to amend section 15, line 6, inserting after the word "Paint Rock" the words "and the branch road to Newton." Lost.

The question then recurring upon the bill upon its third reading,

The yeas and nays being called, resulted in the following ballot:

YEAS.—Messrs. Ames, Argo, Ashworth, Banner, Barnett, Bowman, Candler, Carson, Carey, colored, Cherry, colored, Clayton, of Transylvania, Davidson, Downing, Durham, Ellington, Estes, Forkner, colored, Foster, Franklin, French, Gahagan, Gatling, Graham, Harris, of Wake, colored, Hayes, Hendricks, Hicks, Hoffman, Hudgings, colored, Ingram, Justus, of Henderson, Justice, of Rutherford, Kelly, of Davie, Kelly, of Moore, Laflin, Leary, colored, Long, of Richmond, Malone, Matheson, Mayo, colored,) McCanless, Moring, Morrill, Morris, colored,) Painter, Pearson, Price, (colored,) Proctor, Proffit, Ragland, Renfrow, Robbins, (colored,) Robinson, Siegrist, Sinclair, Simonds, Stevens, Stilley, Sweat, colored, Vestal, Vest, Waldrop, Welch, White, Williamson and Wilson.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To the People of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, 1868.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were engraved on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending deleterious trash under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these Schnapps would have precluded the introductions and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however only to have stimulated the ingenuity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the indorsement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by mendacious humbugs; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, dishonorable retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison."

The public, the medical profession and the sick for whom the schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned, in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a variety of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity. By a process unknown to the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Compliments have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic schnapps in those markets; and all travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In conclusion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation which bears his name, seal and trademark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to his fellow-citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and to expose the charlatans who counterfeit these evidences of identity and to call upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are as they are represented to be.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

It is unnecessary that we should tell those, who have any acquaintance with the history of Life Insurance in this country, who the Hon. Elizur Wright is. It is sufficient to say to all, who have not such acquaintance, that he is so to speak, the very Father of Insurance in the United States,—having identified a long and useful life with the great Humanity; for, as such, Life Insurance deserves to be classed, along with the great schemes of philanthrophy which mark the age.

The following letter from this Life Insurance veteran, which we find in the January number of the Insurance Times, of New York, it will be seen, is emphatic in its endorsement of the Brooklyn Life Insurance Co., and, especially, of the great feature which it has latterly introduced in the matter of Cash Surrender Values—an improvement that signalizes the era in Life Insurance:

ELIZUR WRIGHT ON THE BROOKLYN LIFE.—The Hon. Elizur Wright, notwithstanding the great services he rendered insurance during his long and memorable superintendence of the business while at the head of the Massachusetts Insurance Department, has been accused of depreciating the benefits of insurance, because he will neither palliate the faults of prevailing systems nor exaggerate their advantages. But when any actual progress has been accomplished, he has always shown that he has the good of the cause at heart by the spontaneous freedom and warmth of his commendations.

The same impartial and impulsive candor and outspoken manliness of sentiment are manifest in the following letter, a voluntary tribute to the excellence of the Brooklyn Life Insurance Company, and the great insurance reform it has effected. The compliment he pays to the accomplished Actuary of this company, D. P. Fackler, Esq., is alike worthy of the patriarch of insurance, and of the junior adept under whose direction this incalculable benefit has been conferred upon the life insurers of this country:

BOSTON, Dec. 28, 1868.

D. P. FACKLER, ESQ.,
Consulting Actuary, Brooklyn Life Ins. Co.

DEAR SIR:—The practice of the Brooklyn Life Insurance Company of endorsing on its policies the cash surrender values, which it will give, after two or more annual premiums have been paid, is certainly a most important step in life insurance, and cannot fail to give more satisfaction to policy-holders, as a matter of average, than they can well anticipate when they commence their policies.

And I am particularly pleased by your departure, in the right direction, from the ordinary method of computing the surrender values, which are endorsed on the policies.

A company that makes such endorsements on its policies, gives the strongest pledge that it will fulfill its trust faithfully, and keep its reserves sufficient. It also removes a great objection to paying the full premium in cash, a mode of payment which is undoubtedly expedient for a great proportion of the policy holders, provided they are properly secured against loss in case of discontinuance.

One of the greatest practical drawbacks to the popularity of Life Insurance has been the disappointment and dissatisfaction of retiring policy holders at the smallness of the surrender value paid, even when that value has been really liberal. All this would have been prevented by a distinct statement on the policy, in advance of the sum to be paid.

Thanking you for calling my attention to this onward stride in the grand march of our American life insurance,

I am, dear sir,
yours, truly,
ELIZUR WRIGHT.

By the way, the Insurance Times, itself, which is the leading exponent and organ of Life Insurance in this country, is no less explicit and decided in its endorsement of the Brooklyn. Alluding particularly to that feature, which has given to a Life-Insurance policy a certain, adequate, bank-note value,—a feature peculiar to the Brooklyn,—it says:

"Let the Brooklyn Life Insurance Company, for this reason, have its place in the front rank, AND THE FIRST PLACE IN THAT RANK, among the progressive life Institutions of the country."

Commendation could not well be higher, and the source from whence it emanates makes it valuable and striking in an extraordinary degree.

See advertisement, in another column, of A. W. Lawrence, General Agent for this State, in which the Cash Surrender Value feature is succinctly explained.

"I wish the guardian of my children to see that they are brought up in the Protestant Episcopal Church, or in other words, the Church of England; and I wish them to be taught to despise that curse of our country, Abolitionism."

Statement of Mr. Robbins.

IN THE SENATE, ON SATURDAY, JAN. 23, '69.

Mr. Robbins arose to a question of privilege and said, (in substance):—

MR. PRESIDENT: I feel solemn. A man on whose name the breath of reproach or suspicion was never before breathed, now held up in the face of all the people of North Carolina with an imputation of a serious nature resting upon me. Under these circumstances, I desire to repeat the statement which I voluntarily made to the Investigation Committee, six days ago, and before any steps had been taken to examine this case.

The occurrence out of which this whole trouble has arisen, took place about as follows: On Saturday morning, Aug. 22nd, being the last active day of our Summer session, as I was passing through the lobby with my mind much engaged and pre occupied with various matters, and especially with the preparation of an address, which Senators had appointed me to deliver that morning, Mr. J. W. Stevens approached me and asked what I thought of his right to his per diem. I told him I was in favor of it, and should vote for it. He then said something to this effect: that as I was in favor of it, he would like to get me to attend to the case for him as his lawyer, and he would pay me a fee of twenty dollars for my labor and trouble. My recollection is that I replied: That is just as you please, Mr. Stevens; but I will do as you have requested. This was the substance of our conversation, which, altogether, did not last five minutes. I did not myself offer any resolution on the matter of his per diem, at any time; but when the question came up that morning, on some other Senator's resolution, I remember making some remarks in its favor, and illustrating the matter with examples and instances of the same kind. I had expressed my views in favor of his claim to Senators Lindsay and Cook, on the day before all this occurred, as Mr. Lindsay has testified.

By inadvertence and pre occupation of mind, I failed to recognize, at the time, the fact that my public character as a Senator rendered it improper for me to take this fee as a Lawyer. In the latter point of view only did it then present itself to me. I did not think deliberately about it. If the amount had not been so trifling, it would have called my attention at once to the nature of the thing, and it would never have occurred.

Singular as it may seem, I aver that I had totally forgotten this matter, until after we passed the resolutions ordering this investigation. In all the discussions upon these Resolutions, in which I made myself conspicuous, this incident never occurred to my memory. But one day, some time after this Committee had been constituted, as I was walking along the street, thinking of this investigation, and thinking, also, how sweet it was to feel that I was innocent, and in no danger, suddenly, as my mind glanced back over the past, the fact of money having been paid me came to my memory like a flash, and I began to ponder over it, and saw in a moment how it was capable of being misconstrued.

When this matter first began to be stirred, I was in a great strait. I felt conscious of no intentional wrong. But I knew how bad men would pervert my act; and this caused me at first to hesitate as to what course to pursue. I confess I was not then collected enough to know what to do. But sober meditation soon decided me to preserve the substance of truth and honor, rather than the semblance only; and I resolved to tell the facts without reserve, and trust my cause with the good people of North Carolina, and with that God who searches all hearts.

I frankly own an inadvertent mistake. I deny all thought of wrong. If any man charges me with bribery, venality, corruption or dishonesty, I utterly and indignantly deny the charge!

In all this matter I recognize the hand of an overruling Providence. Perhaps He saw that the fond hopes of distinction opening before me were growing too dear, and has appointed this singular and mysterious train of incidents to snatch this world from me. With reverent awe I bow to Him, and commit my destiny into His hands.

Serene in the consciousness of my own rectitude, Senators, I await your decision as my peers; confidently believing that you cannot fail to exonerate me fully from every imputation, and relieve me from the reproach with which I am unjustly assailed.

Legislature of North Carolina.

Mr. Rich said as he should be absent on Wednesday next he would now move to reconsider the vote whereby the resolution introduced by him on Saturday was postponed until Wednesday.

Mr. Welker hoped the resolution would not be taken up unless the report of the Committee also came up.

Mr. Martindale moved to amend the motion by also taking up the report of the Committee.

Mr. Rich accepted the amendment.

The motion to reconsider prevailed.

Mr. Rich moved that the report of the Committee be adopted.

Mr. Etheridge said that it was stated that there was other evidence given before the Committee which was not embraced in the report, and the report should not be received without it. He then introduced a resolution re-committing the report to the Committee and instructing them to furnish all further evidence it might possess in the case of Mr. Robbins.

Mr. Rich hoped the report would not be recommitted, as Mr. Robbins had himself admitted the charge to be true and there was no need of further evidence.

Mr. Blythe hoped the resolution to recommit would be adopted, as it was known by several Senators upon the floor that all the evidence taken before the Committee had not been given in the report. He wanted this matter referred to the Committee that we might know all the facts of the case.—Very serious charges had been made and repeated at divers subsequent periods with the statement that their truth could be proven in five minutes. Suspicion had rested upon every member of the General Assembly since that time, and it was due our honor that the facts should be fully given that the people might be enabled to judge correctly who was guilty. The minority report, signed by the Senator from Craven, who was the man who said he could prove the truth of the charges, says that the Senator from Rowan is not guilty of any corruption. How could the Senator reconcile this with his declaration that he could prove the truth of his charges in five minutes?

Mr. Sweet said the gentleman belonged to a profession that should be charitable and should not misrepresent others. The statement was false as could be.

Mr. Blythe thought differently, but would leave it to the Senate to judge the truth of the statement. It was the first time in the history of North Carolina that such charges had ever been brought against a Legislature. He considered it due the people that all the facts should be laid before them.

A. H Galloway, colored, hoped the resolution to reconsider would not be adopted, and that the request of the committee to be discharged would be complied with. He was sorry that Mr. Robbins' name had been brought up here. He did not believe him guilty of any corruption, but thought every member of the General Assembly clear from fraud and corruption. He was willing to leave the man who had made these charges against the General Assembly to God and his own conscience. He for one had never believed Mr. Robbins guilty of any intention to do wrong. He hoped all members would be willing to forgive as they wished to be forgiven.

Messrs. Welker, Smith, Jones, Barrow and Etheridge, followed in speeches of length, urging recommittal.

Mr. Robbins said:

MR. PRESIDENT:—Many things are being said here about mercy. Sir, I don't ask for mercy. I stand up here to demand justice and common sense.

On Saturday I made a calm statement of the circumstances connected with the matter out of which this charge against me has arisen. It was the same statement I made to the Committee. It was the same statement I make everywhere, and shall always make, about this matter. It was a voluntary statement. It was a frank and unreserved statement. I admitted an inadvertence. I admitted an oversight, occurring through pre-occupation and inattention of thought. I deemed it due myself, and due this Senate, and due honest people everywhere, to make this statement and explanation.

Sir, I am now done with acknowledgements. I have nothing to acknowledge, except what has already been said. A great hubbub is sought to be created out of a trifle. There are no merits in this imputation against me. It rests on no real foundation. I rise to defy it, and to defy the base villains who would make something out of nothing. Sir, if any man says that I am guilty of corruption, he lies in his teeth, and he knows it.

Let this matter be referred back to the Committee, if it is thought necessary. The reference again will be an impeachment of the truth and honor of every member of the Committee; but that is their concern, not mine. Let it be investigated, and reinvestigated. Seeing there is admitted now to be no satisfactory evidence against me, let the busy witness, who has sworn against me, (and it amounts to nothing)—let him have another swear at me. Perhaps he can mend his lick. The animus that actuates him was patent before the Committee, and it is revealed again in the activity he shows in trying to get the matter investigated again. He! He! Conceived in the transaction with me! Benefitted by me,—served by me,—in the very matter which gave occasion for all this! He is a noble specimen, isn't he? The pure and saintly Senator, vindicating honor and honesty, by swearing lies against his benefactor! But it takes this conduct on his part to complete the halo of undying glory which is to encircle the brows of my persecutors. Sir, I defy him. Let him swear his hardest.

Mr. President, all the facts touching my case, of any substantial importance, are in the possession of this Senator. They are embodied in my own statement, and the report of the evidence already taken. All that may come hereafter will work to my advantage. It may be found, however, that a few more turnings of the kaleidoscope may present some striking pictures of the conduct of others in connection with this subject.

One word more about this case, and I will be silent. Does any one think that I would have engaged in a conscious act of bribery, with Mr. Stevens, when he was almost a total stranger, and a party opponent; and committed my whole destiny into his hands,—and all for twenty dollars? And not even say a word about concealment, which he swears I did not? Does it stand to reason? Does it accord with human nature? I leave it to all candid minds if such a supposition is not preposterous. Why, Sir, it is perfect nonsense.

Mr. Barrow moved the previous question, which was sustained, and Mr. Etheridge's resolution to recommit passed by the following vote: Yeas 24, Nays 14.

Mr. Cook moved to reconsider the vote—there was no evidence that any portion of the report had been suppressed; he was at the Republican caucus, and heard the matter presented by Mr. Sweet; to recommit is equivalent to saying that the Committee, who have sworn to discharge their duties impartially and to give a full and true statement of all the facts which may come into their possession, have violated their oaths.

On motion of Mr. Love, the Senator adjourned until to-morow at 11 o'clock.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26, P. M.

The Maryland Congressional delegation proceeded, in a body, to the White House, to-day, for Dr. Mudd's pardon.

The President nominated Edward O. Neal, Commissioner of Education.

Full cabinet to-day.

The District Supreme Court obeyed the mandamus from the Supreme Court under a protest, but adopted a rule which effectually excludes Bradley from practice except on Appeals.

Sheridan reports the destruction of sixty Indian Lodges at the junction of Salt Fork and Elm Creek.

Three soldiers were wounded. A number of Indians were killed.

A special dispatch to the Tribune says: Gen. Grant is strongly opposed to the pending Alabama claims treaty. The following is his position, nearly in his own words:

Unjust to the United States, because it assumes to measure injury inflicted upon this country by money, value of ships actually destroyed, whereas the chief damage to our ships being driven from the seas, by the Anglo rebel pirates. In addition to this the sympathy extended by the English Government to the South prolonged the war at least a year, and for all lives lost and money expended for this time, England is directly responsible. The treaty proposes to settle all these things, by the payment of the paltry value of a few ships."

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 P. M.

SENATE.—The FINANCE Committee reported back the bill reorganizing the Treasury Department, with a report. No bill could be matured to meet the various views regarding the civil service of the Government.

A resolution passed, raising a special Joint Committee of three from the Senate, and five from the House to which the whole matter would be referred.

A protest from the Winchester Virginia Union League, against the removal of Judge Parkers disabilities was presented. Sumner classed Parker among the other atrocious Judges.

Kellogg introduced a bill for a Railroad and Telegraph from New Orleans to the Rio Grande in the direction of San Bias on the Pacific and branch lines. It guarantees interest on Company's bonds for thirty years for twenty-five thousand per mile, and grants eight sections of the land per mile, to be selected from Louisiana, TEXAS, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia and Florida, and landless laborers on the road shall have forty acres at one dollar per acre.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—Heaton introduced a bill to amend the eighth section of the "Act of August, 1861," to provide for increased revenue, from imports, &c., by suspending and abating the collection of uncollected direct tax, laid in that section upon North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana and Arkansas. The bill was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The Finance Bill was discussed to adjournment.

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.
THE AUTOMATIC
CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.
THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any Stove or Range, many boiler, and the LOW PRICE of the article places it within the reach of every family.
This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.
The hot suds and steam, by the action of Heat, are driven up through tubes poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.
The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.
Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.
The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.
No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & BROTHER'S, and see its wonderful operations. We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the State.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!

AT HOME AGAIN!!

WITH A HOUSE RAMMED AND PACKED FULL OF
NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS,
FOR
1868.
COME TO A. CREECH'S!

For Ladies' Goods! For Gentlemen's Goods! For Misses' Goods! For Boys' Goods! Ditto for Children!

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND VERY COMplete. Allow me to say that you see some very strange advertisements. Some say they bought goods before the rise—some after the decline—some just in time—some in luck again—some buy goods cheaper than anybody else—some selling goods at unprecedentedly low prices—some controlling the trade &c., &c., and all such stuff. What a lucky set of individuals!
Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug—large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? so let them talk, puff and blow, but STOP, LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgment by to buy your goods. I intend to run through this campaign with my motto, to give each and every individual value received for their support!
A fine opportunity for the ladies to exercise their inalienable rights, as well as the gentlemen! Don't stop until you COME TO CREECH'S. You will find me at E. Smith's corner, attending to my business, always ready to give you the worth of your money.
